INTRODUCTION

The following texts, for the most part, were written by students of our English and Spanish courses and the illustrations were made by children at different ages. It is more than expected that some grammar and/or spelling mistakes will be found because these students are still in the learning process.

The teachers and coordinators reviewed everything before being published, but there are certain things that could not be corrected otherwise we would have something totally mischaracterized from what was originally written by the students. In other words, we had to keep some elements that could identify the characteristics of the person who wrote the text.

We are sure this will not make your reading uninteresting and we hope everyone can reflect a lot after reading all the following content because only reflection and discussion can make a better future for education.

We thank our students who participated in such an important project like this because without them we could not have accomplished it.

INTRODUCCIÓN

Los siguientes textos, en la mayoría, fueron escritos por alumnos de nuestros cursos de inglés y español, las ilustraciones fueron hechas por niños de diferentes edades. Por lo tanto, es esperado que hayan algunos errores gramaticales y/u ortográficos ya que estos alumnos están en proceso de aprendizaje.

Los profesores y coordinadores revisaron todo antes de ser publicados, sin embargo hay cosas que no pueden ser corregidas sino tendríamos algo completamente descaracterizado en relación a lo que fue originalmente escrito por los alumnos. En otras palabras, tuvimos que mantener algunos elementos que pudiesen identificar las características de la persona que escribió el texto.

Estamos seguros que esto no tornará su lectura desinteresante, esperamos que todos puedan reflexionar bastante después de leer todo el contenido a seguir, pues solamente la reflexión y la discusión pueden hacer un futuro mejor para la educación.

Agradecemos a nuestros alumnos que participaron de un proyecto tan importante como este, pues sin ellos no podríamos haberlo concretizado.

WHAT I WANT FOR THE EDUCATION IN THE FUTURE

The education a want in the future is one without useless subjects such as arts. Nobody learns anything painting a bottle and getting dirty with paint. I want to have more cool classes like robotics. Lots of people can't study in good schools, so the government needs to invest more in education.

THE EDUCATION I WANT FOR THE FUTURE

I hope everyone should have the right to study in the future. Every child should have the basic education with good teachers too. I hope that public education will be in better condition than how it is now.

It is necessary to have a certain world knowledge to be a good citizen, so the education in schools are very important to be passed on. Subjects such as History and Geography are very important and can make a difference for future generations, so we won't make the same mistakes past generations had made.

If the educational system improves, certainly we can have a better future. A good education is the first step to solve all problems we have right now.

Well, one of the biggest problems in Brazil is education. People never cared too much about this subject, so gradually, Brazilian education is getting worse. There are too many people without proper education, and the more they try to get better quality for their academic lives, the less they get it. In addition to this situation, which is the worst, there isn't a minimum level of quality or respect. And sometimes in the countryside, there are not even desks for the students to sit. Of course the education also depends on the own student, who disrespects the teachers in the classroom. It's important not to forget this. Nowadays there is a discussion between public x private school or university (about which one is the best option) but for me, this mustn't be a problem, because it's not the school that makes the student, it is the student that makes the school. A hardworking student is able to go wherever he or she wants, they just have to believe in their dreams and do the best to follow and achieve them. Another reason why Brazilian education isn't the best, is the corruption, that in my opinion could be solved if our politicians cared about this matter. After all, a good education makes a good person, and a good person makes a good country.

THE EDUCATION THAT I WANT TO HAVE WHEN I GROW UP

The education that I want to have when I grow up is such a good education that will even surpass my imagination and when I say that I mean it will have no limits.

A good education comes with a Teacher's pleasure to teach, but the burden of teaching is not only the teacher's, because if the student doesn't want to learn the teacher cannot do anything.

So we need to study a lot, because a good education starts with you.

THE FUTURE IS IN THE BOOKS

When the life of a child begins, reading books is one of the first things that are important for him or her to learn in order to learn about their language and the culture of their nation. Books encourage the imagination of a person and also are a fun way to learn. So, it would be a great idea if schools adopted a more intense reading system as a way of learning.

Nowadays some schools have implemented a more intense reading system and it was shown to be very useful. Because of this, in the future, I want that more children would be able to read more books in order to get a higher quality education.

THE KIND OF EDUCATION I WANT FOR THE FUTURE

There are a of people that don't have a great school to study, so I would like that everyone would have a good education and good teachers. For it to happen it's necessary that the Government invests more in education.

I propose better distribution of time to study for students because there is a short time to understand the subject and this makes us forget important things. Also a higher influence in different elective subjects like cooking classes, robotic classes, art, etc.

WHAT EDUCATION DO I WANT FOR THE FUTURE?

I want schools to have good infrastructure and qualified teachers who are able to teach dynamic and interesting classes, this will make students feel more motivated to study.

Also, the government should provide better educational material and learning aids. In addition to this, the classes should be shorter, since very long classes can hinder the assimilation of knowledge. If these ideas are implemented, Brazilian education will be better.

THE EDUCATION THAT I WANT FOR THE FUTURE

The Education I want for the future is a good quality education that could be available for everyone, both private and public schools. To do a change like that I think the educational system should be changed. “We need to create people, not robots”, schools should teach students in a way that they can take their learnings for the rest of their lives and not teach students to make and pass tests. On the long run students end up forgetting all of it.

I studied in a Waldorf school most part of my life. it was totally different from the traditional school that I study now. There I didn’t use to have a lot of homework and tests. With that I didn’t have this pressure above me to study like a robot following the school set pace. There I could take my own time. If necessary, the teacher could re-explain the grammar topic twenty times if needed. Studying in that system I got independent, confident and most importantly I really learned everything, also I bring them with me nowadays. Those are teachings I will bring with me all my life.

This is the education that I wish for the future. An education that gives you more opportunities a good quality for everyone while giving more importance for the people rather than tests and numbers.

THE EDUCATION I WANT FOR THE FUTURE

The education I want for the future includes quality, have more time for class, the students do their homework and obey the teachers. ### WHAT I WANT FOR EDUCATION IN THE FUTURE

I'd like that schools have a better distribution of our time with more breaks in between classes. I'd like different school subjects like cooking classes, robotics, computer classes, etc.

In the P.E. class we would have different sports, for example swimming and gym. The schools should have a better structure like good air conditioning and classrooms with high quality equipment.

THE EDUCATION THAT WE WANT IN THE FUTURE

We would like an education that has a better distribution of subjects and time with more elective subjects, for example, cooking classes, robotics, computing, sports, etc.

We could have more trips to visit new places and learn more, but the trip should be free if the student doesn't have money to go.

We want that all schools to be as complete as our current school is, but free for everyone.

HOW I WANT EDUCATION IN THE FUTURE

All schools shouldn't have unproductive classes and school tests. They should have more useful things for our lives. Brazilians are used to studying obligatory subjects like History, Math, etc, but we should also study more elective subjects like cooking, home economics, etc.

The government should also help with investments in basic education to help creating better schools and graduate more students in basic schools.

THE EDUCATION

The education that I want for Brazil and the World is that all children have access to it and they take care of it instead of going to school to play not to study. The children have to study and learn so that they will not end up on the streets like some people who did not have or did not take advantage of this opportunity.

WHAT EDUCATION DO I WANT FOR THE FUTURE?

The education I want for the future is a more dynamic one in which children learn or play with technology. Many of the children, nowadays, do not want to learn because they find it boring. I would like a larger space to study and a larger library with several books. This would be very good for me, because I'm one of the people who do not know how to learn by myself.

THE EDUCATION I WANT IN THE FUTURE

I expect that, in the future, everyone will be able to have quality education, since simply knowing how to write and read are not enough anymore. They need to be prepared for the career they may choose and most of the population, nowadays, does not have this opportunity.

Due to this fact, I hope that not just in Brazil, but all over the world, kids have their future secured by a great education, not having to worry if they have fewer chances for prospering than the others.

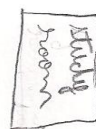

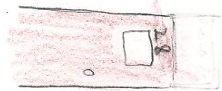

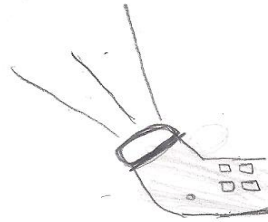

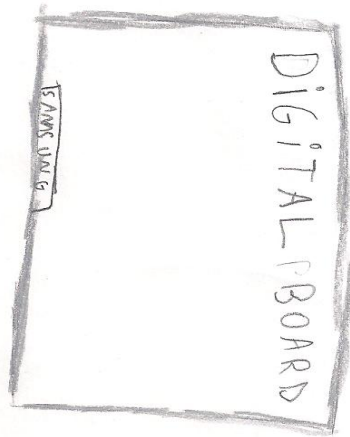

I also think a great start for this new era of education would be to implant English classes in all the schools, since it has become just as much important in today's globalized world as one's mother tongue. However, its nature needs to be expected. If it is not taken seriously, it won't have any good addition to the kid's life.

After some time thinking about the theme, these were the main topics I could think about. Therefore, being the main things that, if changed, would make a great education for the future generations that may come.

EDUCATION NEEDS TO CHANGE TO BECOME BETTER IN THE FUTURE

Education is knowledge and it is something no one can take away from you. Developed countries are those which invest most in education with that it promotes social and economical development in those areas.

Inequalities of opportunity in education nurtures poverty, hunger and child mortality, says general UNESCO directors over the years. The education I wish for the future is with equality, especially in Brazil, where only 20 per cent of the children has access to high quality education.

I do want a education which students know how to respect not only their teachers but also their country. Also consequently a better salary for those involved in the process. In order for that it has to start with changes in the government, in a election year people should choose a candidate that values our economy, education and help to reduce unemployment. Chile has changed their educational system in less than 30 years, and today is the first Latin America Country to become considered developed.

At last, considering recent changes on Law guidelines for education, Brazil walks toward a better educational standards to suitability of students which will help to avoid one of the biggest problems nowadays which is school evasion.

A more modern education, with content applications, instead of books and the students will use tablets in class which will be computerized. This technology will be advanced to the point of having a system where the English classes will have the pronunciation conferred by it and be well checked and corrected in the presented failures. The teachers will be well up to date, with practice to apply this system, leaving the classes even more interactive.

The physical structure will be very broad, with entertainment areas with availability in terms of enough computers for more students. Also having a snack bar with healthy food, without soft drinks, with fruits or natural sandwiches, where the purchase currency will be the school money, which will be purchased exclusively in the classroom, as a reward for good behavior, good grades and activities.

THE EDUCATION THAT I WANT FOR THE FUTURE

The education that I want for the future is:

- An education which public and private schools have the same performance, that all of them have the same quality. The students and teachers will be respected and treated equally.
- That teachers don't need to strike and don't miss supplies for their good performance as educators, neither do the students. That the schools have structure to practice sports, cafeterias and a full time education.
- That has extracurricular classes, so the kids can develop manual and personal skills since early ages so they can learn a profession as soon as they get off high school.
- That the teachers, pedagogical coordinators and school principals could be more present on the daily life of the students.
- That teachers should have qualification courses once a year so they can always be updated.
- Finally that all citizens has the right to learn how to write and read, so they can be free to make their own choices.

WHAT EDUCATION DO I WANT FOR THE FUTURE?

Education is one of the most important parts in the social development process, but in Brazil it is one of the major problems because not all the children have the opportunity to go to good schools and they do not have another option since the public schools are just precarious.

This happens because the government doesn't invest in projects to give opportunity for those children to have quality education. As a result, serious problems are seen in the educational system.

Increasing the investments in new schools, well-trained teachers and good public transportation would be a great beginning in this long and tough road called education in Brazil.

A LOOK IN THE PRESENT IN HOPES FOR THE FUTURE

Being a teacher since a young age has had its impact over the years, educational methodologies have developed over the decade and they keep evolving more and more following the advances of technology and communication worldwide. Schools are not today as they were when I was a student as well as the past generations before me.

Studies in the educational field have shown over the years that there are more students in Brazilian schools, but still Brazil is in the a low position in the Program for International Student Assessment (PISA) compared with other countries in South America, such as Argentina, Chile and Equator. Scoring only 412 in reading skills, 386 in mathematic skills and 405 in science, Brazil is in the 63rd position. Those results are a reflex of the educational system in the country and they are a indicators for a urge of change in the basic education curriculum in Brazil.

Governments, in order to raise numbers, not as quantity of students but quality of learning, usually develop educational reforms and changes in funding, teaching and learnings aids. In 2017 Brazilian Congress approved the High School System Reform changing the National Basic Curriculum and the course load in order to accommodate more flexibilities and try to reduce school evasion by teenagers and prepare them to the new working demands of the job market. Dividing students in areas such as language, mathematics, natural science and their technologies; human science and applied social studies, and also technical and professional formation.

Brazilian government plans to invest in full time education has started in 2018. The Education Ministry estimates that by 2024 the country will have been able to enroll at least 25 percent of students in the new integrated system nationwide. For the future of Brazilian basic education there are a lot of prospects that need to meet the population expectations to a higher position in the PISA regarding reading, mathematics and science skills. Also basic education needs to improve in quality in a more equal level, while some regions and schools have a high reading, mathematics and science grade in the national quality test, Brazil Exam, others are in the low spectrum making the educational system very unequal.

Brazilian government also needs to invest more in researches, which are being compromised with recent budged cut in educational field. Those cuts are forcing a lot of researchers to move their work to universities abroad looking for better equipment and higher funding to them. Neglecting universities and research projects and facilities would provide a great loss for Brazilian technological and economic development, since those projects could benefit Brazil in the future and are being taken abroad slowly year after year of budget struggles by the institutions.

Even though technological advances are in full speed ahead, the teacher is yet a important figure to the success of the system. Qualified teachers are responsible to conduct the changes and researches. They need full support from the community they work in order open a path for a brighter future for our nation's education. Nowadays part of the educational problems are linked to lack of school workers; teachers are needed in schools in every corner of the country, but bad working conditions, low salary and violence toward teachers by students are keeping professionals from the public system. Bringing teachers back to schools are a important step towards changes in the educational system and therefore improving the learning quality of Brazilian children.

As a student in the past, a teacher in the present I hope for the future a better funded educational system, as well as a valorization of the professionals involved in it, and above all a equalitarian high quality education in all regions as a mean of transforming the country and evolving our people.

Teacher Tamires Oivane Caron

WHAT I WANT FOR EDUCATION IN THE FUTURE

“I want a type of education in which we are encouraged to do things about the academic fields we like, instead of being forced to study something that we don’t like.

Of course we have to learn about everything at school, but it shouldn’t be necessary to be good at everything and be punished and not approved when we don’t get good grades at some subjects.

The fact is that the fish isn’t able to climb trees as the monkey isn’t able to breathe under the water, so it’s not fair to have the same kind of evaluation for both of them. And none of them is better than the other just because they have different abilities.

And that is what happens to the kids at school nowadays. Some of them are better at Arts, others at Math and I think they should be evaluated in different ways, instead of being considered not so intelligent just because they aren’t good at the same things.”
